Information for Contributors

Studies in Language Assessment (SiLA) is a peer reviewed international journal which publishes research, commentary and review articles of interest to its readership. SiLA is included in the Web of Science Emerging Sources Citation Index (ESCI). SiLA does not charge any fees from its authors. All content published in SiLA are distributed under the terms of the Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License.

Submissions can be made at any time throughout the year and should be sent to the Editorial Assistant at sila.editors@gmail.com as an email attachment. Correspondence on editorial matters should be addressed to the Editors at sila.editors@gmail.com.

Studies in Language Assessment accepts original research papers (max. 8,000 words) and essays/discussion papers on theory (max. 5,000 words). Book reviews (1,000-2,000 words) and test reviews (2,000-4,000 words) are normally commissioned by the reviews editor.

Manuscripts should be prepared according to the following guidelines:

- Include the author(s)' contact details, academic title and affiliation.
- Research papers/discussion papers should be preceded by an abstract of no more than 200 words and by up to 5 key words.
- Sections of articles should be headed, but not numbered.
- Referencing should conform to APA 7th style as set out in the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (7th ed.). An example of a guide to APA 7 can be found here.
- Double quotation marks should be used for short quotations.
- Quotations of 40 words or more should be indented.
- Tables should be numbered consecutively, and figures should be numbered in another consecutive series.
- Each table and figure should have a brief explanatory title.
- Table titles should be placed above the table, and figure titles should be placed below the figure.
